Principal's Report

As Launceston College prepares to celebrate the centenary of secondary education in Tasmania in 2013 it is somewhat ironic that this will also be the year that the state debates 11/12 tops in all high schools and district schools.

Launceston Matriculation College, Launceston Community College and Launceston College have weathered many educational storms since Launceston High School was formed in 1913 and I have every confidence that in time rational decision making will ultimately see a continuing future for colleges.

Over the last ten years the enrolment at Launceston College has increased significantly, from the mid-900s to 1450 students in 2012. The enrolment figures for 2013 are similarly high, indicating high levels of satisfaction with the educational outcomes this college facilitates. The professionalism and commitment of Launceston College staff in supporting all students' to gain their highest outcome possible is the major strength of this organisation.

Of interest is the number of students from non-government schools choosing to undertake their years 11 and 12 education at Launceston College, enrolments from this group having steadily risen over the last decade.

Within this Churinga you will note examples of the high level outcomes of LC students; last year for example 12 of our students were rated in the top 100 TCE outcomes in the state. You will also note the significant academic, sporting, Performing Arts and Musical accomplishments of our students and further, see involvement of students from associated schools that LC nurtures within our programs.

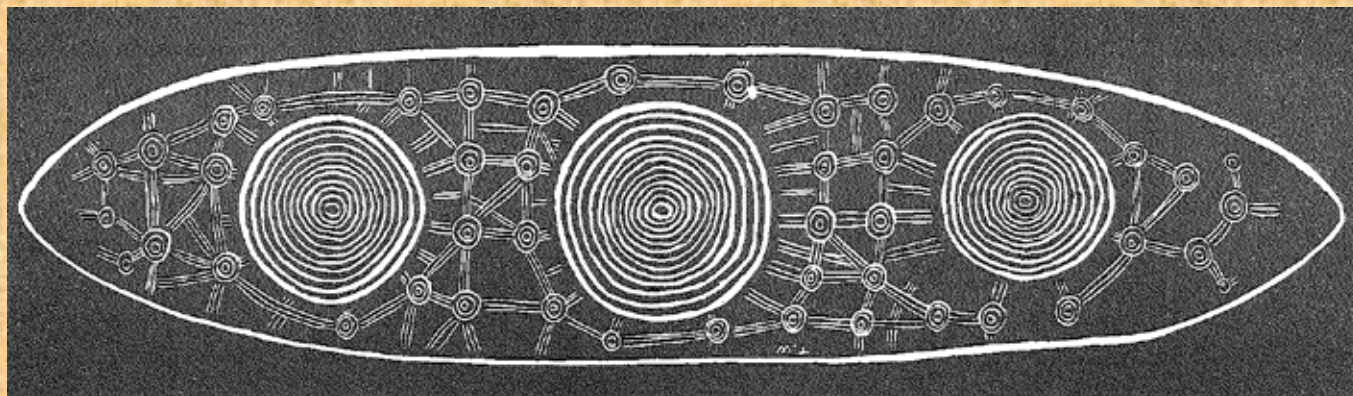

The Esk Band, an LC program, is a prime example of Launceston College using our personnel expertise and commitment to contribute more widely to student needs. This program teaches music to approximately 300 primary school students and 75 high school students at a level not seen elsewhere in this state. The fact that experienced students from this program, comprising the LC Orchestral Band won gold at the recent Melbourne Band Festival competing against the top private schools in Melbourne is evidence that quality remains a characteristic of this organisation.

Similarly LC as a college is able to undertake musical productions on a scale that challenges and elevates the learning for students involved. An example of that success is the fact that the 2012 musical has the record for a totally sold out season at The Princess Theatre, seven shows, 7000 patrons! Dance Fever also includes students from primary and high school working with our LC students in a highly professional event.

Launceston College takes pride in our heritage, and pride in the fact that after 100 years a high percentage of the young people of Launceston and surrounding areas still see this organisation as offering them the best opportunity for success in study and in their future careers.

Centenary

Launceston College

100 years in 2013

Churinga Magazine has been there through it all

The evolution of Launceston College began with the introduction of the Northern State High School in 1913. From its humble, yet revolutionary, beginning in Charles Street as an experiment to provide public high school education for students after grade six, it became Launceston High School on its current site.

It remained L.H.S till 1964 when again it was part of an experiment into post year 10 education and became Launceston Matriculation College. In 1980 it again changed its name. The broadening curriculum led to Launceston Community College for four years and finally Launceston College since 1985. The first school magazine was published in 1914 and was called The Northern Churinga. The title was chosen by the late Mr. A.L.Meston. 'Churinga' is the name given to certain sacred objects by the indigenous people of Central Australia. No woman or uninitiated youth was permitted to see the Churinga which were kept in a sacred place. Only after passing through the ceremonies of manhood could a man know their whereabouts. The wooden churinga that the school used in the early years belonged to a member of the frog totem. The large circles represent gum trees. The trees are connected by the frog totem legends.

The first principal stated that The Northern Churinga 'was a bond of union between present, past and future students'. That sentiment has been an important focus for the production of the magazine throughout its history.

Launceston College has a copy of every Churinga since 1914. We have scanned every page and every photograph. The photographs can be found on our centenary website, www.lccentenary.com.

Join us in 2013 to celebrate what has been not only a fantastic and important institution, but for thousands of people, a part of their own story and history.

Visit by the Prime Minister

LC students from the Hospitality area catered for 350 guests at a Community Cabinet meeting on Wednesday, 3rd October in the Gymnasium. Prime Minister Julia Gillard was joined by many of her Federal Cabinet ministers and Tasmanian Labor Senators. The format of the evening allowed members of the public to make ten minute appointments to speak privately with a minister. Following this a Community Reception was held which was a prelude to the Public Forum where the Prime Minister and Ministers were available to answer questions from the floor.

Earlier in the day lunch was served in Elcies Café Restaurant for staff from the Prime Minister's Department who were coordinating the evening.

Students looked very professional and were complimented by all, including the Prime Minister, on the quality and appeal of the canapés served at the Community Reception.

SUPPORT TEAM

Peta Bishop – Student Support Counsellor

Specialising in promoting excellent attendance and participation through problem solving and support.

This year has again passed in the blink of an eye. I have enjoyed working with many students to assist and offer support in various areas, to ensure great participation at College. It is important to seek support when things happen that may impact on your attendance.

The Learner licence program has also been popular. I was glad to assist and test some 30 students who were successful in gaining their driver learner licence, here at College. With the introduction of our Driver mentor program this term. Students now have the opportunity to drive with one of our mentors to work towards moving on from those L2's and creep further towards their P plates. This program is a great way to keeps those hours ticking over.

I look forward to meeting our new students next year and would like to take this opportunity to congratulate our year twelve students and wish them a fantastic future.

Monica Foley – Social Worker

I commenced in the Social Work role late last year and it is so great working at LC as it has such a collaborative culture when it comes to supporting students.

I have enjoyed being a part of many different activities and events at the College including the Breakfast Program, the National Youth Week Event, classroom activities and Student Programs. I have been able to get to know so many interesting and incredible students and staff at the College.

I am continually amazed by students and how despite having some difficulties have been able to keep on with their studies and I wish all the students I have met through the year who are leaving us the very best for their future!

Riikka Kuronen – Chaplain

What does a Chaplain do at College? I still find that many people don't quite know, but that is no surprise as our role is very broad.

Some of the activities I have been a part of have included BBQ's, the Breakfast Program, summer school with the EAL students, starting a lunch time Christian Group with the University Imagine Network and many other things ... too many to list.

I enjoy being a Chaplain; meeting students and being available to chat and help out if needed and I appreciate my team and most of all I have just loved being part of the whole Launceston College community.

I have great hopes for those leaving college – for “fulfilment and purpose” not just success, in whatever the chosen pathways are!

Susie Dewis: Counsellor

'I have worked at the college as a counsellor for over 6 years and still love it! It is a pleasure and a privilege to work with the students and staff here and the college environment is always dynamic and vibrant and a great place to be. This year has been exceptionally busy and I have worked with many students and parents, assisting with various issues and situations. It is a fantastic feeling when positive outcomes are achieved and difficult situations resolved and I am constantly amazed at the resilience and strength shown by young people. Working in such a large college means that there is always something happening and something to be involved with which is great. I wish the class of 2012 all the best and I hope that they have enjoyed their time at the college.'

Michelle Sly

I am so privileged to be able to work at LC, which is a little different to my usual “out on the street beat” policing. Many people ask “Why does a school need a Police Officer?” The reason for this is that the program, Police in Schools, was set up to develop a positive relationship between police and youth in the community. I am at LC every day, Monday to Friday, between the hours of 10am and 2pm.

Rob Soward

Rob is the Assistant Principal who manages the support team. Rob really enjoys this role and the interaction with students and their parents in providing supportive learning environments for our students. Rob has 22 years experience as a teacher in Tasmanian schools and has been in the Assistant Principal at Launceston College since 2011.

2012 has been busier than ever for our student support team. Deb White moved from her counselling role with our team to providing literacy support for our students in the English area. Our team of Monica Foley[Social worker] Susie Dewis[Counsellor] , Peta Bishop [Attendance and Retention counsellor] , Riikka Kuronen[Chaplain] and Michelle Sly[College police officer] have been busy in the array of programs we offer. The breakfast program continues to go from strength to strength with more and more students taking the opportunity to access our free healthy breakfast each morning in the undercroft from 815-845. We have fruit juices, milo, tea, toast and a selection of spreads to choose from and best of all its FREE !!. We also want to acknowledge our excellent sponsors the Launceston College Association, Bakers Delight Kings Meadows and Betta Milk Co Op Invermay for their ongoing support and without whose support we could not operate.

Our team has led, organised and assisted in a range of student programs throughout the year including the SA programs on Cyber safety, Managing Stress, issues around drugs , issues around sexuality/ positive adolescent sexual health and so on. Our team provides a range of counselling and support options and liaises closely with a wide range of community health and welfare providers. We understand that teenage years can be difficult ones for a variety of reasons and enjoy being able to support students during their time here so they can be effectively engaged in their learning. It gives us great pleasure to see our students flourish and prosper after being supported through potentially difficult issues. We wish everyone a safe and happy Christmas and a relaxing holiday break

It has been another exciting year in the Drama Department. Term One included the Theatre Performance midyear shows, Nicole's Line 2 class presented The Wishing Well and Cheyne's Line 4 class presented Middletown. Both classes showed excellent ensemble skills in these plays. Then it was off to the Launceston Competitions where we had great success in Verse Speaking, Monologues and solo presentations. Corey Brunskill from Drama 3 was awarded the best over 16 performer of the whole competitions – an outstanding result.

DRAMA REPORT

Term Two saw all of the technical theatre students working on the College Production Footloose. Special mention must be made of the outstanding work done by Lauren Schwabe as Stage Manager and Caleb Jones as Technical Manager.

The Level 2/3 classes presented their midyear shows in early August with both classes doing Mary Zimmerman adaptations of famous epic tales. The Odyssey by Line 6 was a huge undertaking and Line 1's Metamorphoses included a real pool of water on stage. Term 2 ended up with a number of students taking part in The Junction Arts Festival, with 9 students performing in a show The Pact with Backbone Theatre from Brisbane. This solo nonverbal performance took place in Fitzzy's City Café to critical acclaim. A number of technical theatre students worked on a range of projects including The Democratic Set by Back Bone Theatre which took place in the Drama Room.

At the time of writing we are busy preparing for exams with Line 2 Theatre preparing to perform Bronte and Jane Eyre, while Line 4 are presenting two plays by well-known Australian playwright David Williamson. We would like to thank all students from the area for another fun year filled with hard work and great Drama experiences. We especially thank the year 12s for their contribution over the past two years. A number of these students are planning to study in this area at university and we wish them, along with all the students the best for their futures. Finally we would like to thank Year 13 student Sean Brown for his outstanding contribution to the area over 3 years and for his help and support in so many projects in the area.

Fashion students have had a busy and productive year completing 5 Design Briefs. A high light of the year involved students making a garment or outfit that reflects their world and generation. Students were taught how to apply makeup for a professional photographic shoot by makeup artist Sharon Jones. Students helped each other with their styling, hair and make-up before past L.C. student Laura Mance took their photos. Each student received a CD of their own and class images.

During second and third term, Kara Lisa Scott, Lilly Mohr, Leah Hinds and Amber Vermey all undertook the University Object Design Unit – Juxtaposition. All students created fabulous outfits under the enthusiastic and talented tutorage of Lucy Grove.

Three Fashion students represented Launceston College in the Apex Teenage Fashion Awards in August. Leah Hinds, Paula Dadson and Natasha Ioannidis presented their garments beautifully amidst outstanding completion from a number of Colleges and schools from around the State.

All up, students have had a fun and creative year exploring the possibilities of working with textiles and fashion.

Food and Nutrition

Food and Nutrition students in all three classes have had a busy and rewarding year. Late Term 2 saw the Line 6 class getting a new teacher Helen White as Alison Reinmuth left to have baby Amelia in late August. At around the same time all students undertook the major task of their Independent Projects which provided an opportunity for students to study in an area of their interest.

Topics ranged from adolescence perception of what a healthy body looks like, the nutritional needs of AFL footballers to the consumption rates and promotion of vegetables in the idea. Some students selected topics very relevant to College students such as how food can enhance mental health and improve the quality of hair and nails. Most students were satisfied with the project they completed and should be successful at the end of the year.

Debating

Debating at Launceston College was successful this year, with many highs and lows. As a new coach, I had a lot to learn this year. Both Gary Bensemenn and our team members were particularly helpful in improving my knowledge. What I learnt about debating is that it is a hobby that requires passion, intelligence, confidence and a competitive spirit. Luckily for me our team, comprising Jake Bourke, Josh Rigby-Saltmarsh, Gabby Knox, Jessie-Mae Branch, Georgie O'Malley, Kade Lovell and Carolyn Scott all demonstrated these traits in every debate.

The debates themselves were always good to watch. After several debates, I finally began to notice what would win or lose a debate, and after various topics from 'dictators deserve to die' to '24/7 access is damaging', I was amazed that the students were only given one hour to write a 6-8 minute speech for these topics, and more impressed with the mature and impassioned presentations that they put forward every single week. Although we missed out on the Grand Final, we enjoyed some thrilling victories in both the A and B divisions and we look forward to continuing our improvement next year.

English Comms Class

On the 29th and 30th of June, two English Communications classes enjoyed a different kind of lesson. After spending the term studying the concept of belonging, several students put forward an idea that we should spend more time getting to know each other outside of the formal English class setting. This idea was endorsed by me and the rest of the students, so a discussion followed regarding just how we could put this plan into action. After debating ideas including a pancake breakfast (this was eventually decided against as Sharyn Lawrence's English class had already done the same), an in-class party (this seemed too 'high school'), it was eventually determined that we would have a talent experience, where students would be able to show each other the many activities that they felt helped them belong in society. These talents included singing (some breathtaking performances), playing musical instruments (Richard on the piano was a rare treat for all), we also heard personal stories (some tear inducing), we cooked for each other, learnt martial arts techniques, watched BMX tricks, and learnt how to 'pop up' on a surfboard. This was such a fun and beneficial and impressive lesson for us all,

Kerri Kleinig

We certainly learnt that the students at Launceston College GOT TALENT!

Momo Day

In August, Launceston College organised a Momo Day. It started through the initiative of Phil Barrett, a youth link in worker for the Northern Suburbs Community Centre. The aim of the day was to share a part of Bhutanese culture – momos (steamed dumplings) - with all staff and students. There are about 31 Bhutanese students from a refugee background here at Launceston College. We also wanted to encourage an awareness of the journey some of these young people have travelled in the hope that this contributes to tolerance, respect and the ability to share a friendship. Leading up to the day, some of our EAL students combined with Carl Hinde's English Foundation class to share stories of their culture, and prepare advertising for the day.

Nabin Gurung, a former LC student and now apprentice chef at the Black Cow, come in to organise the cooking and preparation of the momos in the morning. EAL students and some mainstream students gathered around a table to wrap the momos – making 800 of them! A big learning curve for some! It was an extremely successful day, allowing the EAL students to value their culture and share it with others. The obvious enjoyment staff and students found in eating the momos made it a wonderful experience for them. Those who came along to sample the momos also learnt a little more about a different culture and the journeys some of our students have made, by reading the posters around the walls. The money raised was sent to organisations working with refugees still in the camps in Nepal, such as Caritas, Youth Friendly Centre and UNHCR .

Sydney Dance Trip *

In August a group of dance students from Launceston College embarked on a trip to Sydney for 3 days. Day one consisted of a visit to the harbour bridge and then two 1.5 hour classes at Sydney Dance Company. That evening students viewed the Bangarra performance of 'Terrain' in the drama theatre at the Sydney Opera House. Day two consisted of a 2 hour private dance class and then students attended 'A Chorus Line' at the Capitol Theatre before catching the monorail to dinner in Darling Harbour.

It was a wonderful trip, thoroughly enjoyed by all!

English Studies Indian Experience

As part of their Application: 'Writing India', English Studies students were treated to an Indian dance performance on the 10th October involving staff at Launceston College and co-ordinated by Tika Varma. The Application involved studying film and print texts about the subcontinent from both colonial and postcolonial perspectives. Students also researched Indian cuisine and brought Indian food to share that they had cooked on the day.

MEDIA STUDIES

Media Studies in 2012 has been a productive year for both the Video and Radio classes. Students have investigated how we are a part of the language of media. Media Studies involves the very nature of what and how we communicate. Students have created media, investigated how to manipulate it and how it manipulates us.

Here at Launceston College, Media Studies are streamed into Radio and Video lines, both offering Level 2 and Pre-tertiary versions of the syllabus.

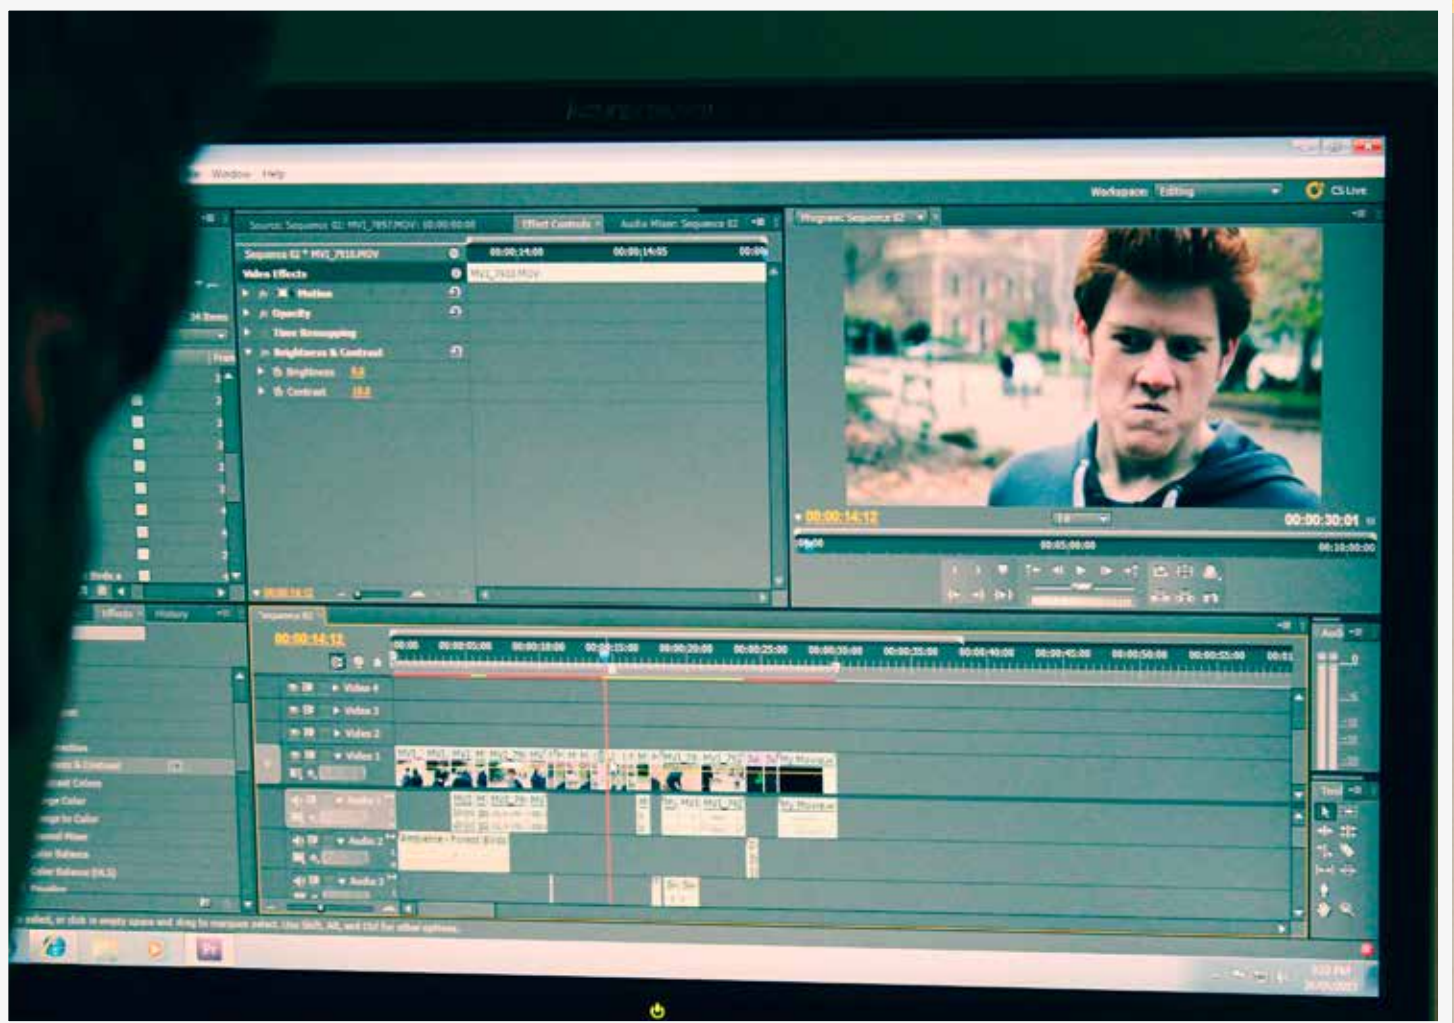

The college boasts the State's only live to air Student Radio Station. LCFM broadcasts 24 hours a day, 7 days a week at a frequency of 87.8 on the FM dial. LCFM broadcasts live shows in regular class-time, and pre-recorded material around the clock. In 2012 students have produced a variety of show formats, for example drive-time, documentary and journalistic pieces, music shows, social commentaries, radio plays and light hearted trivia and current affairs. You can tune in to LCFM at 87.8 on your FM dial, or listen to our stream via the web, the link is available on the Launceston College website.

Video production in 2012 has seen collaborations with the Launceston City Council, the Red Cross, and the Volunteers for Community organization, with film crews capturing the relationships in our community and creating short films for these organisations and their own folios. For the past two years we have also collaborated with the ABC and their regional coverage of the Junction Arts Festival.

Media Studies are also closely involved with the Performing Arts at the college filming the School's Productions of "Footloose" and "Dance Fever". 2012 Media students have also entered material for the MyState film festival, ABC's Heywire competition and the new Breath of Fresh Air Festival.

Stay tuned.

Chris Ikin, Media Teacher.

Animal Studies

Term 3 started off with a bang for Launceston College's Animal Studies class with new work place-ments, an exciting job offer and the birth of six baby rabbits!

At the end of last term the Animal Studies class completed their first aid certificates and organised a fundraiser for Tasmania Zoo. The fundraiser was a great success, raising three hundred dollars that was sent to Tasmania Zoo. Many thanks to all the students and staff who gave us their support.

The Animal Studies class also welcomed new furry additions to the college.

On Saturday 1st of September Matilda the Mini Lop rabbit gave birth to 5 healthy baby rabbits, 4 Himalayan with grey ears and noses and 1 albino.

They are very energetic and curious bunnies and enjoy running up and down their ladder, sleeping, harassing their mother and eating carrots and grass. If you haven't seen them yet, come up to B block level 4 and take a peek!

Every Thursday students from the Animal Studies class travel to a chosen business where they carry out the day to day duties of that workplace and interact with potential employers. This program creates many opportunities to make connections that are invaluable when starting out in a career and can even lead to some students being offered employment.

Maths @LC in 2012

817 students spent the year studying one of the Maths courses at LC. The most popular subject was Maths Applied 3 with 228 students followed closely by Maths Applied 2 and Workplace Maths.

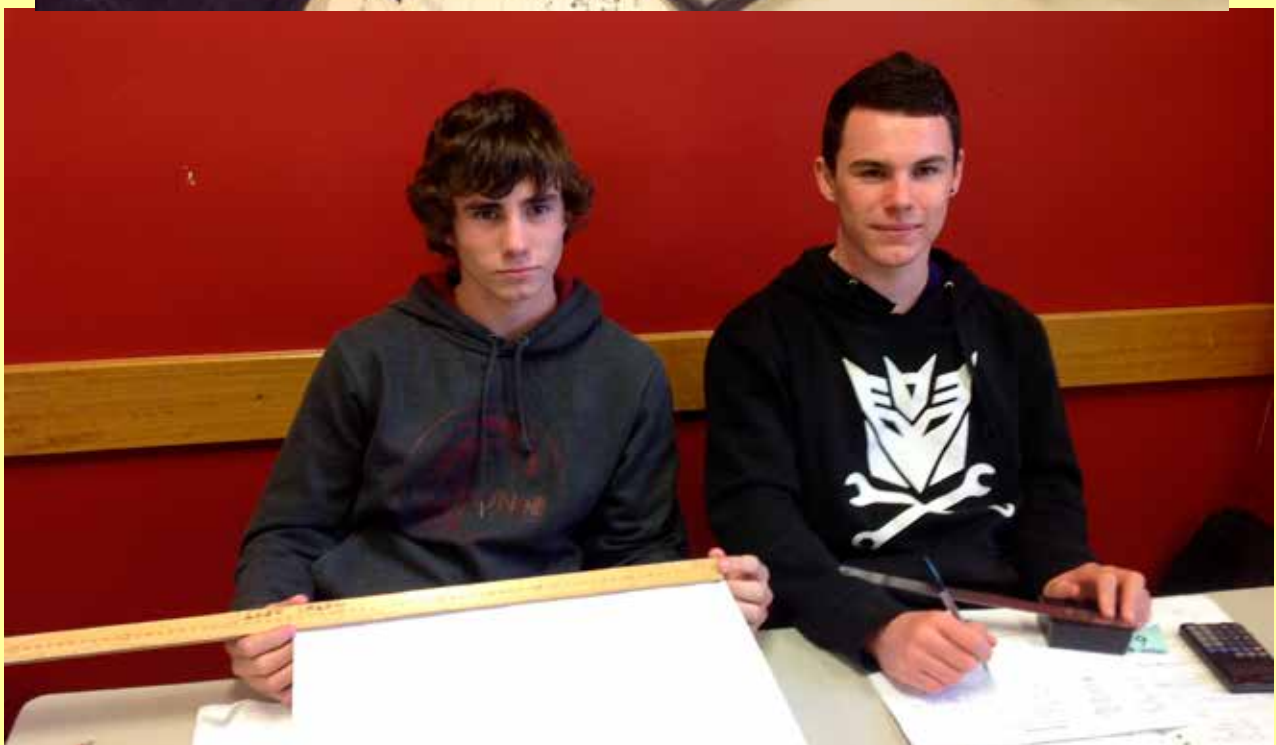

Students also participated in Maths activities outside the classroom competing in a number of competitions during the year – including the Tasmanian, the Australian, the challenging Urquhart and the ever popular Maths Relay where two teams of 4 students performed well on the 20 questions. One of our teams came third in the northern Maths Relay and James Smith and Tegan Craig gained Distinctions in the Australian Maths Competition.

LAUNCESTON COLLEGE STUDENT SECURES PLACE IN PRESTIGIOUS SCIENCE FORUM!

Tegan Craig from Launceston College has been selected to attend the National Youth Science Forum (NYSF) to be held in January 2013.

The NYSF, which is celebrating its 30th anniversary in 2013, brings together Australia's brightest young scientific minds for twelve days of lively debates on major scientific issues, and interactions with some of the country's premier research teams. The University of Western Australia, Curtin University of Technology and the Australian National University proudly host the Forum. As part of its 30th anniversary celebrations, the NYSF will also be holding several special events throughout the year, which students are encouraged to attend: and they might even meet alumni from the very first Forum!

"Each year the students come to the Forum armed with knowledge about their local regions and areas of science", said Geoff Burchfield, Director of the National Youth Science Forum. "When given the opportunity to get together and discover the diversity that a career in the sciences can offer they soon realise that their nerve and imagination are their only restraints."

At the NYSF, students are able to pursue the particular branches of science, engineering and related subjects about which they are most passionate. They meet and talk with prominent scientists, to work in laboratories with these people and learn first hand what a life in science really means. They will gain hands on experience in diverse areas such as quantum physics, climate change, marine science, surgery, engineering and much more.

"NYSF students get inspired by the wide range of university and career options that the program showcases and many of our participants will go on to become tomorrow's scientific leaders," Mr Burchfield said. 92% of NYSF students enrol in a science or engineering degree at University and 85% continue to work in a related field.

Launceston College's Tika Varma Wins Science Teacher Award

The Australian Academy of Science in Canberra was founded in 1954 by Australian Fellows of the Royal Society of London with the distinguished physicist Sir Mark Oliphant as founding President. The Academy works towards promoting, encouraging and rewarding science in Australia through a range of activities. The four main programs of the Academy are recognition of outstanding contributions to science, education and public awareness, science policy and international relations.

Each year the Australian Academy of Science sponsors one teacher from each state and territory to attend its annual Science at the Shine Dome conference in Canberra and Tika Varma was delighted to receive an Australian Academy of Science Teachers' Award to attend the Science at the Shine Dome conference from 2-4 May this year in Canberra.

The teacher awardees from all across Australia were presented with their award by Professor Jenny Graves (AO FAA, Secretary, Education and Public Awareness) at The Education Workshop for teachers at the Ian Potter house. Each teacher awardee gave a presentation describing some of the techniques and/or resources used to successfully communicate science to students. The workshop gave the teacher awardees the opportunity to exchange ideas and curriculum materials with interstate colleagues and discuss the national curriculum. The visit to the QUESTACON in the afternoon was a good opportunity to gather resources for teaching of science.

Tika teaches Environmental Science, Biology and Physical Science at Launceston College and The Australian Academy of Science Teacher Award enabled her to apply her learning about Antarctica to all three of her pre-tertiary classes, but especially to Environmental Science and Biology. Tika said that the formal dinner with Fellows of the Academy and an informal dinner with young researchers, allowed her to build valuable networks and find inspirational role models for her students.

Tasmanian Schools Surfing Championships 2012

On Monday the 26th of March a small group of Launceston College students participated in the Tasmanian Schools Surfing Championships, held at Clifton Beach. The team consisted of Gerome Bramich, Tom Gray, Fergus Brown (in the under 19 boys Division 1), Christian Heron (in the under 19 boys Division 2) and Brenda Smith and Indie Douglas (in the under 19 girls Division 2). They competed against numerous colleges throughout the state during the course of the day. We also had the pleasure of having Elesi Vunaki (photography student) make the trip down south with us to be our very own sport photographer for the day. Many thanks to Elesi for her great work!

The day started off bright and early, leaving the College at 6.30am and arriving at the competition to be greeted with a beautiful day and almost perfect waves for the contest. The girls jumped in the water first for their heat, in which Brenda placed 5th and Indie placed 4th. Christian managed to make it through his heats to the final where he placed 3rd. At the other end of the beach Tom, Fergus and Gerome were fighting it out as a team against some tough competition, winning each of their four heats which got them straight into the final.

The final was against Rosny College who definitely put up a good fight, but the Launceston College boys managed to successfully complete enough manoeuvres to get them over the line, winning by a very small margin of 0.6 points. This was a very exciting win as it is the first time Launceston College has won the Schools State Surfing Competition!

Their excellent effort has earned them the title of the State Champions and has given the opportunity to compete in the National Schools Surfing Competition held in December this year. All students did a great job, had fun time and all agreed that it was a great experience to surf in a competitive environment amongst other college students. The students should be commended on their brilliant behaviour and participation in this event!

ENGLISH APPLIED 2

It's been quite a busy year for teachers and students in this subject as classes have tackled the class novel, Graffiti Moon, learned problem solving skills and worked steadily to compile the major assignment: the Futures File. Students have selected interesting topics to research pertaining to some aspect of their future life including planning an 18th birthday party or wedding, purchasing a car, taking up a new pastime or sport, preparing for a career or budgeting for an overseas holiday. To aid their communication in the community students have participated in excursions to the Inveresk Museum, the Launceston law courts, the Launceston police station, local retail stores and the Gorge. They have also organised some fund raising events to aid charities. Students thoroughly enjoyed a visit from living 'books' from the local Living Library where their stereotypes about some marginalised people in the community were challenged. They particularly appreciated Chris' story about his slow recovery from a serious car accident in his early 20's. Chris warned students not to get into a car with an intoxicated driver and to ensure they were safely seat belted into the car in case of accident.

Thanks to a fantastic teaching team: Mark Crocker, Carl Hinde, Kerri Kleinig, Doug Watts, Annette Taylor and Sharyn Lawrence.

Student Directed Inquiry

is a subject that requires students to organise their own learning on a topic of their own choice. This year's students chose an interesting range of topics to research in depth including investigations into the effects of social media, the qualities of elite athletes, the Kokoda Trail, the relationships between humans and animals, the Master of Anime film, creativity in education and the Harry Potter phenomenon to name a few. Carl Hinde joined the teaching team in 2012 and his expertise in research methods and report writing were appreciated by young and old. His sense of humour has been sorely tried at times! Best wishes for the future to the class of 2012.

ENGLISH WRITING

Exploring the vintage selection of clothes and enjoying refreshing drinks in the eclectic environment of Nana's Coffee Shop was the Line 4 English Writing class.

As well as some hilarious dressing up, a very interesting group story telling session was enjoyed by the class as well as the staff and even some members of the community who got more than they bargained for after they ordered their coffee.

The whole class entertained each other and their audience with their imaginings about the life of a woman in a photograph. Who knew the little old grandma in a frilly frame had experimented with almost everything from Islam to other women?

Apart from the English Writing crew of course!

English Writing 3

Students experimented with writing within the parameters of an exact limit of 99 words (excluding the title). This prescriptive form emphasised the value of each word.

The Interview

She stands when I enter, rigidly formal. I grasp her hand, praying she doesn't feel mine shake.

She harbours a power.

Commands a control.

Owens an authority.

I can feel it in the room.

I'm desperate for her to think me suitable, adequate.

I've been interviewed a thousand times. Despite what they say it doesn't get easier. Minutes drag like hours. The pearls at her throat gleam. I breathe in. She smells like... memories; which is ironic really. Her hands are clasped; a sign the meeting is not going well. My eyes fill with tears.

Grandma knew me once.

Sweet kids

There is a red velvet cake store next-door.

Decorated cake treats fill the front window, each one with blood red insides and iced to perfection.

The woman behind the counter observes children admiring her latest cupcake collection, a sickly sweet smile creeping across her face each time she offers some to taste.

Last week it closed. A sign hung in the window.

Out of red.

Time passed, and kids got curious. Yesterday, two climbed the gate to see if the woman was still there. I watched them from my window, enter inside and not return.

Today it opened again.

Headstart Program 2012

A group of Year 10 students from Port Dalrymple and Prospect high schools recently completed a short course at Launceston College led by Northern Transition Officer, Deaine Coyle and senior teachers Shane How and Sharyn Lawrence. The aims of the program were to better prepare students for success in college and to foster their confidence in themselves as learners.

Students attended six sessions at the college for two hours which included familiarisation with the college campus, an introduction to reflective practice, pre-tertiary standards and assessment, and social skills. Students participated enthusiastically in all activities, showing their teachers that they were all fully capable of success in further education if they continued to work hard in their high school programs and utilised some of the knowledge and skills gained during the program. Students worked co-operatively with peers from another school, showing excellent social skills.

Students received a certificate of participation at a presentation morning tea in October attended by Launceston College principal, Keith Wenn and the principal and assistant principal of Port Dalrymple High School.

The organisers would like to acknowledge the time and support given by grade co-ordinators and other high school staff that enabled students to benefit from the program. The detailed feedback given by the students will be used by organisers when planning an expanded program for 2013.

Housing and Design

Students have completed a very successful year in Housing and Design. We have worked on a wide range of challenges and developing sketching and drawing skills as well as researching such topics as kitchen design, use of space and floor plans, aesthetics, passive solar design and house styles to name a few.

Term 2 was particularly busy with mid-year exam preparation and a six week independent folio completed for external assessment. Students have been on several excursions to investigate building styles, materials and current housing trends.

ENGLISH WRITING

Skyping Heather Rose: a Tasmanian Author

On Friday 31 August, English Writing students were treated to a presentation by Tasmanian author Heather Rose via Skype in the theatrette. With six English Writing classes, Launceston College has the largest group of students enrolled in this subject in the state.

Rose not only spoke about the writing process for her acclaimed novel The Butterfly Man, but also talked about important considerations for students to keep in mind when planning, researching and writing their own work. Rose emphasised to students that most authors work endlessly, using the analogy of a sculptor. “Just as a sculptor in wood has 300 grades of sandpaper, so too a writer must apply varying degrees of finishing.” She stressed the connections between reading and writing, reiterating the importance of reading to teach students about craft and imagination.

Rose was impressed at the depth of knowledge shown by students’ questions and made a point of saying how pleased she was that Tasmania offered a creative writing course at pre-tertiary level, allowing students to develop both their writing skills and their imagination.

The Skype session was well attended and appreciated by students and the English Department will definitely be organising more of these sessions in 2013.

CWS

2012 has been an exciting year for students enrolled in Certificate 1 in Workplace Skills.

Students have studied Occupational Health and Safety, customer service, industrial relations, working cooperatively, job searching and interview skills, using appropriate equipment and technology, workplace communications, numeracy and First Aid.

The recent Enterprise activity saw students involved in planning and carrying out small retail projects like BBQS, selling slices, milkshakes and hot dogs in Col Lane. The students enjoyed the challenge and learnt about planning, cooperation and basic retail. They were able to practise their customer service and numeracy skills.

Classes in customer service allowed students to rehearse correct ways of dealing with the public in retail situations. Role Play was also a significant teaching and learning strategy when students rehearsed job interviews and presented them for assessment.

Students have also been intensively involved in OH&S study and have developed a practical understanding of how to be safe at work. One activity saw students recording sound levels with a decibel meter and comparing these to the acceptable level that does not damage hearing.

Students have also ventured out of the college on excursions to visit various workplaces to gain first-hand experience of different working environments. Students enjoyed a day trip to Devonport and visited businesses such as the Christmas Hills Raspberry Farm and the House of Anvers. Community visits were also conducted to the Launceston City Council, Service Tasmania and the Museum. Guest speakers gave accounts of their experiences and current knowledge.

A major component of this course for students was a series of work placements throughout the year. Students have had the opportunity to be involved in 3 work placements in a multitude of jobs including: farming, automotive, hospitality, retail, beauty, building, office work, child care, trades, aged care and many more.

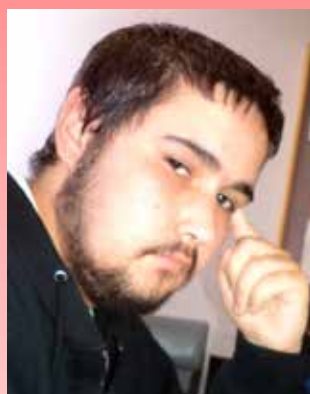

Launceston College would like to thank the many businesses who provided the students with such valuable experience and opportunities.

This year has been very successful. A number of students have found employment while others have been able to decide and start on a definite career pathway. Students have gained many important skills as they experienced the challenges of the world of work.

EAL Summer School Program

The EAL Summer School Program was held during final exam time, and once again gave all students the opportunity to experience many activities – swimming, fishing, yoga, Zumba, singing, bowling, cycling, drumming, photography, drama and also the chance to learn more about Fire safety, oral health and sorting out finance and budgets. There were visits to the museum, the Polytech restaurant for brunch and checking out a variety of swimming pools around Launceston.

Thanks to Ceri Weeks for her wonderful organisation of the water safety program, even though the weather and the LC pool filter was working against us!

Rob Soward's fishing trip was a winner, although only one tiny fish was caught!

Hospitality

One of our Certificate III students, Charlotte White won the Tasmanian Training Award for VET in Schools students. This was announced at a Gala dinner and presentation evening at Wrest Point Casino on Friday 24th August. Charlotte won a computer package, a $250.00 travel voucher and a trophy.

The class of 2012 students have been committed to achieving their nationally recognised hospitality qualifications by participating in a wide range of training activities in both on and off the job environments. Work placements in the local community were experienced in both March and October and during July and August the students successfully managed the operations of Elcies Café Restaurant. The students prepared and served food and beverages for over 500 guests during the 9 Thursdays in term 2.

On Friday June 1 the students assisted the Launceston General Hospital Food Services Staff to provide breakfast for 150 people to launch the Give me 5 for Kids appeal. Students set up the cafeteria at the LGH and then served a cooked breakfast to the guests.

Three students from the Commercial Cookery sector of the program left during the year after successfully securing chef apprenticeships.

Food and Cooking Essentials

Students prepare a variety of foods throughout the year for their own enjoyment. Sometimes these foods are taken home to share with family and at other times are shared with class members.

2012 Electrotechnology

This year, Electrotechnology students took possession of the new Electrotechnology workshop located on the ground floor in C block. The workshop has a stud framed building in it (complete with a roof and eaves) that allows realistic work simulations of domestic electrical activities. Students in the photos are completing exercises such as constructing domestic switchboards, installing lights under eaves, in the roof space, on the ceiling and walls. Electrical connections vary from simple one-way switching to more complex three-way switching for lights as well as installing power outlets inside the building and waterproof ones on the outside.

BAR OPERATIONS

Did you do Bar Ops in '2012'? If so you might remember serving a variety of refreshments and tasty snacks to patrons who ventured down to Elcies at the end of a busy day? Some were teachers who enjoyed meeting up with colleagues after a busy week; others used our fantastic facility to discuss Learning Area business or to celebrate special occasions. Many students joined us as well and our reputation is becoming well known in the Launceston community and members of the general public now join us on a regular basis. We have also had lots of parents coming in to support their son or daughter and to see how they work in a different environment – all were totally impressed by your performance! It is really great to have such an eclectic mix of people in the Bar!

Some of the special functions we worked on were the auction fundraiser for the Production, one for Andy Goodwin, a member of staff who cycled from San Francisco to Los Angeles to raise money for 'Aids Lifecycle', a post wedding celebration and a baby shower!

All these initiatives allowed you to put into practise the strategies for 'Responsible Service of Alcohol', the focus of our teaching program in this course. We hope that you will remember us when you use your certification to get a job, or your knowledge to keep yourself and your friends safe in your leisure time.

HAIRDRESSING

WOW, the school year has gone in the blink of an eye! I just cannot believe we have completed L.C's first year of being RTO for Certificate II in Hairdressing.

Students have enjoyed being in the Salon and have definitely enjoyed working on a Thursday, massaging, colouring and blow drying with the odd 'up do' thrown in for good measure. Salon LC is open to students, teachers, staff, family and friends and bookings are essential and may be made via email:

jacki.morley@education.tas.gov.au or on 63327754. This number has a message bank facility if no one is in attendance; could we ask that along with your name you leave an appropriate number to reach you.

We can only look forward as Salon LC has been a fabulous addition to our College.

Working with Children 2012

Launceston College offers students enrolled in "Working with Children" the opportunity to organise a playgroup for around 20 babies and children between six months to five years old as part of their course.

Playgroups are greatly enjoyed by the students and they sing, dance and play with the children, read books to them or are creative together.

Gaining experiences and practical skills in this way prepares students for a career in Child Care, Early Childhood teaching or to become a parent in the future.

Café Culture 2012

Café Culture is a short course operating from Elcies Café each Wednesday morning between 10am – 10.50am. This course allows students to experience an authentic working environment. It offers the opportunity to gain a nationally recognised certificate in “Preparing & Serving Espresso Based Drinks” and a Certificate of Participation from Launceston College.

Students gain experience and develop skills in both front and back of house positions including preparing and presenting café style food and operating an industrial coffee machine. Further skills are gained in various other café procedures such as cash register operations, customer orders and waiting on tables.

As the café caters for functions within the college the students have the opportunity to present their skills at such occasions as:

Learning Area meetings

Orientation Days

Invited guests to the college

College Production Celebrations

Many students have elected to attend the Café course throughout the year and this can lead to employment opportunities for them within the local community.

Some Student comments:

Catchment to Coast

Winner 2012

Lachlan Bovill, student in the Level 2 Evening Photography class, is this year's winner of the Catchment to Coast student photographic competition. This year's theme was: Rain falling in the hills and mountains flows down to the streams and rivers, into the estuaries, then out to the sea. What happens upstream in the catchment affects communities downstream along the coast. This year's challenge was to capture and convey this theme through the submission of a photograph and supporting text.

As a prize Lachlan won a Nikon DSLR camera.

Here are some other nature photographs taken by Lachlan

Amelia Digney

Amelia is one of those students who come along maybe once or twice in a teacher's career and make every day of being an educator worth all of the more challenging moments. She is not only an extremely talented and creative young lady but also an incredible inspiration to her classmates, a caring and thoughtful individual who always considers others before herself. She is also perhaps the most modest person I have ever met and is genuinely grateful for every compliment received.

Next year she is off to Art School at the University of Tasmania, although she has already completed three or four elective units as summer schools or as a result of her participation in the University College Program. I believe Amelia is going to be one of those very few people who can make a living from their art. Within five years, I am guessing she will have gallery representation, have been collected in state and national galleries and received numerous more awards for her art. One day she will win the Archibald prize along with most of the major art awards in the country, though this is not the reason she creates. Amelia Digney lives to make artworks, particularly drawings. With her watercolour pencils, her watercolour paper and her trusty suitcase full of supplies, Amelia will take on the world winning fans and friends along the way.

Some of her achievements include the following;

Birchalls Tertiary Award Finalist and People's Choice Award
Young Archies Portrait Prize Year 11 – 12 Category Award;
 Secretary's Award and People's Choice Award
Bay of Fires Junior Art Prize category; under 19 Winner and People's Choice Award 2012

International Students Program

Once again we have been fortunate to have students from a number of countries studying with us at Launceston College. The International Students Program includes: Paul Han – Korea, Ludd Panyadong – Thailand, My Linh Lac and Jenny Nguyen – Vietnam, Wen Wei, Hugh Zheng, Chris Zheng, Li Fangzhou, Ziyang Zhang - China

These students have studied very hard throughout the year to achieve their goals. We wish Paul Han, Chris Zheng and My Linh Lac, our Year 12 leavers, all the best as they venture on to further study.

We have also welcomed a number of exchange students throughout the year who have studied with varying lengths of time. Launceston proved to be a very popular destination for the French as a large number of French students with us came to us in Term 2 as well as several Italian. Throughout the year we have hosted:

France – Agnes Rosmann, Florian Salord, Francois Novau, David Ichbia, Marie Corrie, Thomas Bertrand, Cyrille Ardaud, Clara Balandreaud, Theo Tchieko-Djiako, Clemence Courbon-Desgaches, Hugo Lessard and Marina Guerrero

Italy – Lorenzo Palladini, Asia Nevi and Francesca Perotto

Brazil – Nina Camarero

Switzerland – Cindi Rubi

Hong Kong – Wing Yam and Tang Fung Chan

Napattarachon Sompamit (Boat)

also joined us for Term1 before he returned to studying in Thailand.

We have really enjoyed meeting all these students, learning more about their countries and culture as well as showing them our beautiful state. We have enjoyed many morning teas and lunches and several activities including a visit to the Mole Creek Wildlife Park and Alum Cliffs. Our International students are a very important part of our Launceston College community and we look forward to welcoming more in 2013.

Tasmanian Band Championships Hobart

Eighty students performed in the Tasmanian Band Championship held at the University of Tasmania on the 13th of October. The College entered three bands in the Junior C Grade and Open B grade section of the competition.

The Concert Band won Tasmanian Junior C Grade Championship and the Junior Concert Band was awarded third place in Junior C Grade.

In the Open B Grade the Launceston College Symphonic Band won the Test Piece "Scenes from the Lurve" and the Hymn "Seal Lullaby" and gained second place for the march and own choice selection. The adjudicator recommended that the band was good enough to compete in Open A Grade (the highest level of banding in Australia!). An amazing achievement.

November

College Graduation: The College Stage Band and Concert Band and contemporary Music Students presented a range of musical items for the graduation Ceremony. Audio was provided by Audio Design students.
